WALLACH IN JAIL AND ATCHERLEY ON THE WAITING LIST

Healer Goes to the Atcherleys Have Not Female Rock Pile. Been Given the "Secret"

Wallach has been in jail since two o'clock yesterday afternoon, serving time on two fines of $200 each imposed by Judge Andrade for practicing medicine without a license.

The Wallach that appeared before the District Court yesterday morning was very different from the Wallach who for the past months has been defying the Board of Health, and threatening to run for Mayor of Honolulu next November. He looked yesterday like a man who had lost his nerve entirely. He was far different from the jaunty, self-satisfied Wallach who has given the Board of Health the greatest run for its money it has ever had. Whether he was misled by promises of immunity or pardon, or whether when finally brought before the bar of justice his effrontery and assurance deserted him, can not be said. But in any event he was very much subdued.

When his case was called yesterday morning Judge Andrade asked him if he was represented by counsel. He replied that he was not, and to further questions that he did not intend to be.

He was asked what his plea was and he wanted to make a statement before he pleaded. The court held that the plea must come first, and he pleaded guilty. Then he made a somewhat rambling statement to the effect that he had practiced medicine in the two cases with which he was charged and in many other cases. He insisted that he had done much good by his practice.

Judge Andrade said that in view of the fact that he had been so assertive in his manner and had flaunted his breaking of the law with jeers at the authorities, he felt that a severe penalty should be imposed. He therefore fined Wallach $200 on each of the two charges.

This seemed rather to stun Wallach, and after he was taken down into the receiving office he made somewhat anxious inquiries as to whether he was still liable to further prosecution, and seemed surprised when told that he was.

He said that he had no money and did not know where he could get any, and so expected that he would have to serve out the fine in jail. He said something about sending to Europe for money to pay the fine and then leaving the country for good.

Later in the day Mrs. Atcherley came to the police station and bitterly upbraided Wallach for pleading guilty. She said she had retained a lawyer to defend him, and that he was a fool for having pleaded guilty.

At two o'clock Wallach with other prisoners was taken to the jail and began serving his sentence.

SOMEBODY KNOCKING THE MOANA SERVICE

Alexander Young was the guest at a highly mysterious and extra secret session of the Board of License Commissioners yesterday afternoon, a meeting to investigate a charge brought against the Moana hotel of selling things over the bar, while neglecting to have meals served in the dining room. Mr. Young arrived in an automobile and was able to show the commissioners that he was not guilty as charged.

"It appears that the Board has been given some misleading information," said Mr. Young, after the doors of the executive chamber of the Board had slammed behind him. "Information to the effect that we were not serving meals at the Moana. The facts of the matter are that we have had our range there out of commission for a day or two to allow of some repairs and the building of a new chimney. In the meanwhile we are serving the Moana guests from the Young. It is all right now."

RUSSIAN JEWS FOR LABORERS

H. P. Wood Suggests That They Could Be Secured for Plantations.

Russian Jews are the latest people to be mentioned as a possible source of labor supply for Hawaii. H. P. Wood, now representing the Chamber of Commerce on the mainland, telling in a recent letter to J. F. Morgan of the possibility of securing some of them. Mr. Wood has already discussed the matter with Cyrus L. Sulzberger, a prominent Jewish merchant and philanthropist of New York, who has become interested in Hawaii as a possible home for the oppressed members of his race among the agriculturalists of Russia.

Mr. Sulzberger is a member of the New York Chamber of Commerce, a prominent Democratic politician and at the head of or on the board of directors of many benevolent and philanthropic organizations. He was seen by Mr. Wood after the latter had spent a day on Ellis Island, at the suggestion of the Commissioner of Immigration. Concerning his trip and interview, Mr. Wood writes:

"I returned yesterday from a three days' trip to New York. At the suggestion of Commissioner General of Immigration Sargent I went over to Ellis Island and spent the greater portion of the day there, meeting Mr. Robert Watchorn, Commissioner of Immigration for New York city, also Mr. C. L. Green, Inspector in Chief of Immigration and Distribution. I was shown all over the place and spent a pleasant and profitable day.

"From Mr. Green I learned that only one immigrant out of every four hundred arrived in this country without definite knowledge as to where they were going and what they were going to do, for which reason (even if desirable to do so) it would not be practicable to recruit labor for Hawaii from the new arrivals. During the fall and winter, however, Mr. Green thought that it would be possible to secure quite a large number of laborers from the masses who are out of work, stating that at the present time he knew of one party of twenty-nine Spaniards and probably a hundred Italians who could be secured. Of course, he said, there was the risk of loss in transporting them across the continent—some similar shipments in former years resulted disastrously, as you know—but he thought that difficulty might be overcome.

"Commencing about March 1 the truck farmers tributary to New York city employed every laborer they could secure, and from that time until August or September it would be useless to try to secure laborers for the islands in New York city.

"Mr. Green also made the statement that in his opinion, as soon as the Panama Canal was completed, instead of

MANY MATTERS WERE DISCUSSED

Central Improvement Club in Long and Useful Session.

The Central Improvement Club met yesterday afternoon at the rooms of the Promotion Committee. Present were:

W. W. Hall, General Davis, E. I. Spalding, Allan Herbert, A. Young, W. O. Smith, Dr. Rogers, C. H. Dickey, L. C. Ables, Ed. Tewse, W. W. Thayer, Z. K. Myers, Rev. D. Scudder, N. S. Sachs.

President J. Kidwell was in the chair. The Lower Nuuanu Street Improvement Club sent in the following list of newly elected officers:

President, L. A. Thurston; vice president, W. W. Hall; secretary and treasurer, C. H. Dickey.

A NEEDED ROAD.

J. O. Lutted in a communication pointed out the desirability of opening a new road from King to Queen streets, on the Ewa side of the Nuuanu river and just Ewa of the bridge. Such a street would be of great convenience to passengers arriving and departing by vessels of the Pacific Mail, American-Hawaiian and other lines.

J. O. Lutted, Allan Herbert and A. Young were appointed a committee to act on the communication.

PUBLIC COMFORT STATIONS.

C. H. Dickey presented the following communication:

I present the following scheme for the combination and extension of the improvement clubs of Honolulu, which if carried out will cover the whole city and have all the territory of the place in the care of some one of the clubs.

Beginning at the Diamond Head end of the city, leave the Waialae, Kaimuki and Palolo club and the Kapahulu club as at present, advising the latter to combine with the Diamond Head club; let the two Waikiki clubs unite, and add to their territory all the rice and banana plantations and mauka to Beretania avenue; let the Alexander street and McCully club unite and make their boundaries King street and Beretania avenue on the south, Punahou street on the west, Kaimuki on the east, and Manoa Valley club on the north and east. Leave Manoa Valley club as it is. Let Punahou street club, the Punahou, Makiki, Pawaa and King street clubs combine, taking as their territory the plat bounded by King, Punahou and Pilikoi streets and the Makiki Valley. Let the Beach road club take on all makai of King between Waikiki and Punchbowl streets. Let Prospect Heights, Thurston avenue and Pensacola street clubs join and take in all between Pilikoi and Punchbowl streets mauka of King, including Punchbowl hill and Tantalus. Unite Emma street, Fort street and Pauoa clubs, extending their "sphere of influence" to all mauka of King between Fort and Punchbowl streets, including Pauoa Valley. Unite the School street and lower Nuuanu clubs and give them all between Fort and the Nuuanu stream mauka of King and makai of Judd. Let the upper Nuuanu take in the whole valley mauka of Judd street. Let the Liliha street club extend its territory to all mauka of King between the stream and Asylum road and mauka to Judd. Let the Kamehameha club expand and take all between Asylum road and Kallih road from the sea to the mountains, combining with Alewa Heights club. Let Kallih club remain intact. Let a new club be formed taking in all the territory makai of King between the extension of Asylum road and Punchbowl street.

This plan would, I think, have the advantage of having strong clubs and having the whole ground covered. I suggest that the matter be referred to a committee consisting of the president and four others to be selected by him.

C. D. Dickey, E. I. Spalding, W. W. Hall and Z. K. Myers were appointed a committee to consider the suggestions outlined by Mr. Dickey.

W. W. Thayer, chairman of a committee to investigate the Waialae Road rock crusher, reported that the owners of the crusher had said that it was too late to make any change in location. They promised, however, to make the structure as air-tight as possible.

EARTHQUAKE CLAUSE DEFEATED

KINGSTON, Jamaica, February 1.—The Appeal Court today dismissed the motion of the English Insurance Companies for a new trial of the cases wherein two juries found against them on the plea that they were exempt from the payment of losses sustained a year ago last January on account of the earthquake clause in the policies. The court, which is composed of three English Judges, now find the companies liable. The cases will go to the English Privy Council for final decision.

CAMPBELL WILL NOT ADMIT AN ERROR

"The Advertiser misquoted me slightly yesterday morning in my statement in the Holt matter," said Treasurer A. J. Campbell yesterday afternoon. "and I wish you would put it straight. In the published quotation I am made to say that 'we are admitting that it was by error' that Holt made the wrong payments and the false entries. Now I don't admit anything of the kind and do not want to go on record as admitting it. What I did say was that 'admitting that it was by error (for the sake of argument),' and so forth."

"Nothing has been done as yet towards selecting or appointing anyone to fill the vacancy caused by Holt's resignation."

INJUNCTION PAPERS IN WATER CASE

A bill for injunction was issued yesterday by Alexander Lindsay, Jr., Judge of the First Circuit Court, on behalf of the McBryde Sugar Company and served on the representatives of the Koloa Sugar Company, ordering the latter to appear before the Judge in Chambers on Monday morning to show cause why a temporary injunction should not be issued restraining them from using the waters of the Ahupuaa of Koloa.

This is the first step in the litigation arising out of the water dispute between the two corporations of Koloa, in which the two sides came within an ace of a physical clash during the past two weeks. Kinney & Marx appear as attorneys for the McBryde Sugar Company, the plaintiff in the action.

AN OREGON LAND THIEF COMES BACK ON MARU

MRS. HORACE G. MCKINLEY,
Formerly Miss Marie Ware, whose marriage disqualified her as a witness against McKinley.

HORACE G. MCKINLEY,
Who is going back for sentence in connection with the Oregon land frauds.

Horace Greeley McKinley, who was mixed up with Senator Mitchell, Congressman Herman, former U. S. Attorney Mays, Jones and others in the gigantic land frauds in Oregon, passed through Honolulu yesterday on his way to Portland in the custody of an agent of the United States, J. F. Kerrigan, specially commissioned by President Roosevelt for that particular purpose, and who has in the past two years traveled over 27,000 miles in search of McKinley.

McKinley's return from China is perhaps without precedent. There is no extradition treaty between the United States and China, but as an act of courtesy China surrendered him to United States Consul General Derby at Tientsin, and within twenty-four hours he was on his way to America. The crime for which McKinley was convicted—for he has been convicted, though not sentenced—involved many men of prominence, and its methods were bold, ingenious, and sometimes so trivial as almost to be amusing. Certificates of land grants were boldly forged, and then passed over with
